

Royal Carlsbad

Diana Rogers

We moved from my hometown of Encinitas to coastal Carlsbad 8 years ago. A move I was reluctant about mainly because I didn't love the house & change is always difficult for me.

We moved because we had to, but the plus was my sister lived right across the street! It was the best decision.

We made our new house a home & being close to my sister and her family was so special. We have felt like we are a part of this community more than other towns we have lived in. Our neighborhood is such a unique place where kids play outside together, and we look out for one another. We love living in Carlsbad and hope to always call this place home.
